

Local Authority Parking Finances in Scotland 2017 - 18

This note covers parking finances for the 32 local authorities in Scotland. They are required to submit details of their finances to the Scottish Government annually in a standard format. The figures are normally published in March, nearly a year after the financial year end. This note looks at the section on parking income and expenditure for 2013-14 to 2017-18 and is based primarily on Scottish Local Government Finance Statistics data (Scottish Government (2019)), as well as data reported by English and Welsh Local Government authorities, all of the sources of which are listed in the references<sup>1</sup>.

In addition, Transport Scotland is now publishing an annual report on decriminalised parking - the latest being: Decriminalised Parking Enforcement – Local Authorities’ Income and Expenditure: 2017 to 2018 (2018), which follows on from a report released in 2016 by the Scottish Parliament Rural Economy and Connectivity Committee that showed for the first time the number of Penalty Charge Notices (PCNs) issued and penalty income raised in Scotland for the years 2013-14 to 2015-16 (Transport Scotland (2016)).

The Transport Scotland report deals with the statutory returns which are required by councils operating Decriminalised Parking Enforcement (DPE) to show how the surpluses are reinvested in transport activities. The local finance figures also include non-DPE activities, primarily off-street parking.

1 Introduction

Table 1 shows that as of December 2017, 21 councils were operating DPE (using local traffic wardens and civil enforcement), while two more were actively working towards DPE, one of which—Midlothian—introduced DPE in January 2018. The remaining ten authorities were not currently considering DPE, but still use fixed penalty notices issued instead of fines enforced by the Justice of the Peace courts. See Figure 1 for the map<sup>2</sup>.

Police Scotland no longer enforces parking offences but now deals only with dangerous parking (e.g. on pedestrian crossings) by local arrangement. Several of the authorities not using DPE have rejected it because of the cost of setting it up and running it for the small number of parking offences.

2 Summary

Table 2 and Figure 2 show the summary accounts for local authorities in Scotland for fiscal years 2013-14 to 2017-18. The income has increased by 6.7 %, the expenditure has increased by 9.0 %, and the surplus has fallen by 100.0 % compared to the previous fiscal year. Total transport has increased by 6.8 % and the surplus now represents 0.0 % of transport costs. Parking makes a smaller contribution to overall transport expenditure in Scotland compared with England where it is around 21.8 % of total transport.

On average, parking surpluses in Great Britain have risen by about 7.4 % annually over the past four years compared with 2.1 % annually for the Retail Prices Index during the same period (Office for National Statistics (2019a)).

3 Income

Total council parking income from all sources in 2017-18 was £88.1 million, 6.7 % higher than 2016-17. Note that this includes meter and penalty income for on- and off-street parking, but does not include income received by private parking companies. Table 5 ranks the Scottish councils in terms of parking income.

Six councils increased their income over the past year and 27 decreased their income. Six councils did not show any income in 2017-18. The changes from 2016-17 are mapped in Figure 3.

The top three Scottish cities by income were Edinburgh City, Glasgow City, and Aberdeen City, and between them accounted for 69.2 % of parking income.

East Lothian increased their income by 445.2 % while East Dunbartonshire and Stirling increased by 75.5 % and 53.6 % respectively. The biggest decreases were in South Ayrshire (25.4 %), and Falkirk (11.0 %) (excluding Angus with income under £30,000).

Table 6 shows the number of PCNs issued council by council in Scotland for the years 2013-14 to 2017-18, with the average income per PCN for 2017-18. The total number of PCNs has increased by around 3.6 % a year on average. The penalty for parking can be £40 or £50 for a minor offence such as overstaying at a meter, or £60 for a more serious offence such as parking where it is not allowed. These figures are reduced by 50% for prompt payment and increased by 50% for slow payment. The average recovery per PCN was £34.1 in 2017-18.

Scottish councils with DPE earn 13.8 % of their income from PCNs, which is about half of the equivalent proportions for London and for the rest of England (see Table 7). It would appear that either Scottish drivers are more law-abiding, or the enforcement regime in Scotland is not as rigorous.

4 Expenditure

Table 8 ranks the councils in terms of expenditure on parking.

Overall expenditure has risen by £3.6 million (9.0 %) after a rise of £0.4 million last year, with two councils having increased their costs and 30 having reduced them. The changes from 2016-17 are mapped in Figure 5.

The largest increase in expenditure occurred in East Lothian where it increased by 172.4 % while East Dunbartonshire and Renfrewshire increased by 50.4 % and 46.7 % respectively. The biggest decreases were in South Ayrshire (18.0 %), and Angus (16.3 %) (excluding Shetland Islands with expenditure under £30,000).

The table also shows the proportion of income taken up by costs in 2017-18. Nationally in Scotland it is 49.4 % with Glasgow at 37.6 % and Edinburgh at 26.8 %.

Table 9 shows the proportion of income taken up by expenditure over the previous four years. Across Scotland it was 49.4 % compared to 48.4 % in the previous year, suggesting declining efficiency in operations.

Edinburgh's expenditure was 26.8 % having fallen since last year, and Glasgow's has risen to 37.6 %. Most of the medium-sized councils spend 50–90% of their income on parking management, which includes enforcement. Care should be taken in interpreting the percentages towards the bottom of the table, as the very low parking incomes can lead to extreme values which are less meaningful.

5 Surpluses

Table 10 shows the parking surpluses from 2013-14 to 2017-18 and the change from 2016-17 to 2017-18. It also shows the proportion that parking surpluses represent of total transport expenditure.

The total surpluses for Scotland amounted to £43.1 million between 18 authorities, of which the top three—Edinburgh City, Glasgow City, and Dundee City—accounted for 88.2 %. One councils made a loss with the total of parking deficits rising to £1.9 million from £1.8 million last year.

Overall, parking contributed £41.2 million to local authority finances in Scotland in 2017-18 compared with £42.6 million in 2017-18, an increase of -3.2 %.

Stirling increased their surplus by 609.5 % while Dundee City and Aberdeenshire increased by 87.5 % and 80.2 % respectively. The biggest decreases were in East Ayrshire (53.8 %), and South Ayrshire (36.2 %) (excluding East Lothian, Inverclyde, Shetland Islands, Orkney Islands, and Aberdeen City with a surplus/deficit under £30,000).

6 Comparison between Local Government Finance figures and Transport Scotland decriminalised parking enforcement figures

As mentioned in the introduction, there are now two sources of information from Scottish local authorities giving the income, expenditure and surpluses for parking: the Local Government Finance (LGF) figures, which cover all the parking activities; and the Transport Scotland figures (for those authorities operating DPE), which cover only the statutory elements of on-street parking and penalties, and do not include council-run off-street parking. Table 11 compares the two sets of figures. The differences between the two sources may not be due solely to off-street income and expenditure only being included in the LGF figures as it is possible that councils use different figures for overheads and other costs in reporting the two sets of figures.

The biggest difference in reported income is in Highland where the LGF figures show £1.6 million more income than the Transport Scotland set. Its expenditure is reported by LGF as £1.0 million higher, making the difference in the two surpluses £0.6 million. Glasgow's off-street car parks and on-street enforcement have been run by City Parking (Glasgow) LLP, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Glasgow Council since 2007. Its accounts for 2016-17 show income of £15.2 million, expenditure of £13.0 million and an operating profit of £2.8 million which almost exactly matches the difference.

In Edinburgh City, the LGF income is £1.5 million higher, but Edinburgh does not operate any off-street car parks as they are all commercially run.. On the other hand Angus has LGF income £0.2 million less than the DPE income, and Glasgow City has LGF income reported to be £0.0 million less. NB: Aberdeen is only the biggest negative difference here because its LGF income is currently zero!
