

Local Authority Parking Finances in Wales

2017 - 18

1 Introduction

This note covers parking finances for the 22 local authorities in Wales. As in England and Scotland, local authorities are required to submit details of all their finances to the Welsh Government in a standard format. They are normally published in October, seven months after the financial year end. This report looks at the section on parking income and expenditure from 2013-14 to 2017-18.

The published data is less comprehensive than in England and does not split out on- and off-street parking or show penalty income separately. The figures do not include any commercial off-street parking. In 2017-18, Nineteen councils showed surpluses and three showed deficits (the same three councils as 2016-17). All councils are now receiving income from parking, although councils such as Blaenau Gwent (Ebbw Vale and Abertillery) and Torfaen (Pontypool and Cwmbran) offer free parking but still issue penalty charge notices.

Total transport fallen by 1.9 % and the surplus now represents 5.4 % of transport costs.

Parking makes a smaller contribution to overall transport costs in Wales compared with England where it is around 22 % of total transport. Figure 1 gives a longer term overview of the trends in incomes, expenditures and surpluses.

3 Income

Total council parking income from all sources in 2017-18 was £38 million, 2.9 % higher than 2016-17. Note that this includes penalty income, which is not shown separately, but does not include off-street income received by commercial off-street parking facilities. Table 2 ranks the Welsh councils in terms of parking income.

Eleven councils increased their income over the past year and eleven decreased their income. Merthyr Tydfil saw income increase by 19 % while Wrexham increased its income by 14 %. The largest falls were in Rhondda Cynon Taf (-18 %), and Denbighshire (-11 %), excluding Torfaen where the income is very low.

The total net surplus for Wales was £14.4m. Total parking surpluses amount to £15.1m between 19 authorities of which Cardiff, Swansea and Gwynedd contribute 53.7%. XXXX increased its surplus significantly because of the sharp reduction in cost. Three councils made a loss with the total of parking deficits falling to £0.6m from £1.0m last year mainly because of a reduction in the loss in XXXX with its big fall in expenditure.
